Description

This workshop will explain the basics of LGBTQ language and constructs used to identify and allow expression of self. Presenters will address specific trauma and wounding that occurs as a result of coming out, particularly in faith communities and families in which religious beliefs create barriers in relationships.

Learning Objectives

Following this workshop, participants will be able to:

- * Describe appropriate language around identities and expressions of gender and sexuality
- * Understand institutional homophobia, transphobia, and micro-aggression, particularly in faith communities
- * Identify specific interventions for celebrating diverse identities and healing spiritual trauma

3 core hours of CE credit approved from the Licensed Professional Counselors Association of Georgia, the Georgia Society for Clinical Social Work, and Georgia Association for Marriage and Family Therapy. You must be on time and stay for the entire event to receive CE credit.
